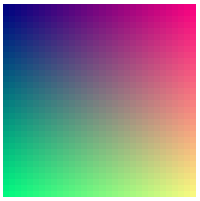
A page printed by Chromium

This document is generated by burrow's own test tooling. Every word in it is ours, and its only purpose is to be a file of the kind Chrome writes when a page is saved as a PDF.

The table, the picture and the links below exercise Chrome's text, line drawing, image and link writing. This link points at nothing, and this one points at the second section.

Item	Count	Note
Paragraphs	3	plain text
Images	1	a generated gradient
Links	2	one empty, one in-page



Second section

The in-page link above lands here.